

How to calculate the valuation of fiber optic cables

Overview

To evaluate fiber optic projects, focus on three key metrics: Net Present Value (NPV), Internal Rate of Return (IRR), and the payback period. Net Present Value (NPV): This measures the current value of anticipated future cash flows, factoring in the time value of money. Under IFRS, specific guidelines dictate how depreciation should be calculated and reported. This section offers a primer on these rules, setting the stage for more detailed exploration. Sometimes the power budget has both a minimum and maximum value, which means it needs at least a minimum value of loss so that it does not. Here's what you need to know: Costs: Fiber deployment includes high upfront expenses (CAPEX) like cables, equipment, and installation, alongside ongoing operational costs.
